FOR THE 2012 GAMES

West London Partnership for the 2012 Games

WEST LONDON STORY PROJECT MANAGER

One year contract

Contract: £10,000

Location: Flexible location but must be able to access all areas in West London

The West London Story is the major Cultural Olympiad project in West London. Delivered by the Western Wedge¹ on behalf of the West London Partnership for the 2012 Games², it aims to engage artists and arts organisations to work with residents and engage new audiences across West London in the lead up to and beyond the London 2012 Olympic Games and Paralympic Games.

To date, the project has supported West London artists to develop ideas and concepts telling the stories of West London, interpreting these through a variety of art forms.

We are now seeking an experienced and enthusiastic project manager to design and implement the West London Story development plan which will ensure this exciting and innovative project continues to build between now and 2012 and beyond.

You will have experience of managing projects in a partnership environment, have excellent communication skills with the ability to motivate a range of partners and have proven success of securing funding. Experience and / or an interest in culture and the arts is desirable but not essential.

For an informal discussion regarding this position and / or to request an application pack, please contact Helen Fisher, West London 2012 Officer at helen.fisher@brunel.ac.uk or 01895 267576 / 07880585759

Closing date: 12pm, 4 December 2009
Interviews: 15 December 2009
Vacancy Ref: WLS1
